Risks

VRS team is aware of various kinds of risks, including a loss of purchase price. No warranties, promises and/or representations of any kind, expressed or implied, are given as to the nature, standard, accuracy or otherwise of the information provided in this Whitepaper nor to the suitability or otherwise of the information to your particular circumstances. VRS team does not accept any responsibility or liability for the accuracy, content, completeness, legality, or reliability of the information contained on this Whitepaper. Purchasers are deemed to have consented to the purchase and sale of a VRS token to be aware of and purchasing a VRS token as is, without any warranties of any kind whatsoever.

1. Blockchain Risk: Blockchain system congestion may cause transactions to be processed late or invalidate. In particular, smart contracts responsible for issuing and distributing VRS tokens are based on the technology known as Ethereum Blockchain. The Ethereum protocol may have weaknesses and vulnerabilities, and also may cause various bugs, including bugs where VRS tokens are lost. Also, monetary damage may occur to VRS team and VRS ICO participants due to those problems of the Ethereum Blockchain.

2. Transaction privacy leakage: Your personal information is required to distribute and control VRS tokens in the purchasers' & electronic wallet. VRS token stored in the wallet may be changed or lost due to an internal or external factor such as attack from malicious code, software bugs, blockchain networks error, and more. Transaction privacy leakage can facilitate the leakage of confidential information, theft of cryptographic keys and therefore cause VRS token leakage from the purchasers' e-wallet.

3. Security vulnerabilities: Like all other cryptocurrencies, Ethereum blockchain faces its security flaws as hackers can exploit these systems by 'Double spending' or '51% attack'. These vulnerabilities in Ethereum blockchain thus may lead hackers to attack VRS team or VRS and steal millions and billions of VRS tokens in one go.

4. E-Wallet compatibility risk: Participants must use an electronic wallet that is technically compatible with the VRS token to purchase or store a VRS token. If a participant is using a different wallet, the participant may not be able to access the purchased VRS token.

5. Force majeure: VRS is now under development process, and VRS team makes every attempt to ensure to develop and maintain the VRS as it is described on this Whitepaper. However, the policy and regulatory framework around blockchain is in its infancy and therefore there is a risk that VRS team either failed to adhere to regulatory requirements for the specific use case and technology, or new laws or regulation may conflict with current VRS project functioning. VRS team will be exempted from any liability for damages and losses of value and/or liquidity of VRS token subject to force majeure factors such as changes in regulatory frames required licenses and taxation policies, the emergence of platforms or open source that adversely affect the VRS team or VRS, the lack of market interest, or others.
